Jatin Singh Bhati

Founder, Agilocrats

Jatin founded Agilocrats to solve a problem he spent nearly seven years inside: the execution systems that determine whether technology and AI investments deliver returns - or quietly fail - at scale. His career has been built at the intersection of product execution, AI deployment, and enterprise platform modernization.

BACKGROUND BY ENGAGEMENT

NTT Data - Product Owner
Fortune 5 Healthcare & Insurance

- Led execution across AI, platform modernization, and operations automation at enterprise scale
- Introduced the Product-Oriented Delivery (POD) model for the first time across the client practice
- Delivered GenAI Underwriter Assistant on secure RAG architecture under enterprise compliance constraints

Tata Consultancy Services - Associate Product Owner
US Diagnostic Testing Firm

- Led partner integrations for a scheduling and orders platform, onboarding 35+ enterprise customers
- Predictive no-show models lifted compliance from 75% to 98% within two months

WHAT THIS WORK REVEALED

Technology rarely failed because of architecture, tooling, or talent. It failed because the execution systems connecting decisions to delivery could not sustain complexity as organizations scaled. Agilocrats was founded to address that specific problem.
